Brother Sofa:

At 10pm. Partners at the Community Living Room (CLR). The meeting will now commence. Please report on the work done today to improve members' lives.

[Super]:

Member Registration Machine

Member machine:

I helped several new members complete their registration today. Staff also guided them on how to make reservations for facilities and services.

[Super]:

Community News

Flyer Rack:

I distributed a large amount of activity information to neighbours today including Chinese medicine and housing and the CLR's activity booklet. Staff enthusiastically explained everything.

[Super]:

Shared Living Room

Brother Sofa:

I provided a comfortable place for members to sit, rest, and watch TV.

[Super]:

Skills Workshop

Coffee Machine:

Today, I brewed several cups of coffee allowing volunteers to teach members how to make latte art. They learned a skill and could sit and chat with other members relaxing a bit.

[Super]:

Self-service Washing Machine

Little sister Washing Machine:

I was almost nonstop today. I helped members wash their clothes clean and fresh,

[Super]:

Self-service Dryer

Sister Dryer:

and also dried their clothes, providing a one-stop service, saving members a lot of time and money.

[Super]:

Fitness equipment at To Kwa Wan Community Living Room

Fitness equipment:

I joined several members for some exercise, strengthening their bodies.

[Super]:

Silent Cabin at Prince Edward Community Living Room

Sister Silent Cabin:

When members need a quiet place to work, I provide a suitable space.

[Super]:

Massage Chair at Shau Kei Wan Community Living Room

Massage Chair:

Today, I gave massages to eight members and they all said their shoulders and necks felt much more relaxed.

[Super]:

Shared Learning Space

Tablet PC:

More than ten children used the space today to do homework and research. The staff were also here to help them finish their homework.

[Super]:

Children's play corner

Children's play corner:

I have plenty of toys so while playing, children can also make new friends.

[Super]:

Self-service Book Machine

Smart Book Crossing Cabinet:

More than ten books were borrowed today. Just scan once to exchange books anytime. Very convenient.

[Super]:

Multi-purpose Learning Area at Ma Tau Kok Community Living Room

Multi-purpose Learning Area:

I prepared art supplies and materials for children to paint and do crafts.

[Super]:

Music Room at To Kwa Wan Community Living Room

Music Instrument in Music Room:

Of course, art is not left out. Young members love

coming here to play music. They said they finally have a place where they can practice comfortably and feel at ease.

[Super]:

Shared Pantry

Miss Rice Cooker:

I kept the stove on today so members could cook together and share cooking tips. They also praised the shared pantry of the CLRs for being well-equipped with all the essentials.

[Super]:

Shared Dining Area

Long dining table:

I provided a shared space for everyone to dine comfortably.

[Super]:

Brother Sofa:

Everyone did an excellent job. We must continue working hard tomorrow to improve the living quality of “subdivided unit (SDU)” households.

Voiceover:

Since 2023, the Government has launched the “Pilot Programme on Community Living Room” funding provided by the Community Care Fund (CCF). Through tripartite collaboration between the Government, the business sector, and the community, these CLRs are being established in the community with a high concentration of SDU households, offering additional living space for them.

The CLRs open daily from 11am to 10pm and operates year-round.
